

Luann Frazer is the director of American Indian Education with the Cass Lake-Bena Public Schools. She is an enrolled member of the great White Earth Nation, though she was born and raised on the Leech Lake Reservation. Frazer is the mother of four children, all graduates of Cass Lake-Bena High School. She is currently raising two of her granddaughters, both in middle school at Cass Lake-Bena Schools.